Harrison Junior School: STEAM showcase

On December 8, 2017, Junior School students exhibited their individual and team STEAM projects during a school showcase. The room was abuzz with energy as the students presented their work to their classmates, school and district administration and several corporate guests.